

WorldSkills competitors can build anything. Even anticipation.

WorldSkills Calgary 2009 is only one year away. Let the countdown begin.

They're coming. From September 1 to 7, 2009, over 1,000 competitors representing 50 countries in 48 skill categories. The best of the best are converging on our city as part of WorldSkills Calgary 2009. These bright young men and women (22 and under) will be taking skilled careers to a level never seen before in Calgary.

Spread out over 800,000 square feet on the Stampede Grounds, WorldSkills Calgary 2009 will be second only to the Olympics in its size as a competitive event hosted in our great city.

You'll see young people from around the world compete in everything from website design and mobile robotics to the culinary arts and carpentry. Our competitors, drawn from regional and national skill competitions, represent the best the planet has to offer.

And it's all only a year away. Visit www.worldskills2009.com to find out more.
