Complimentary tickets are waiting for you and your family to visit WorldSkills London 2011, the greatest skills Competition, careers and jobs event on the planet. Wednesday 5 – Saturday 8 October, ExCeL London

Are you worried about your child's future?

There's never been a more important time for young people and parents to get impartial help and advice about their future jobs and career options.

Hosted in a different country every two years, WorldSkills comes to the UK for the first time in 22 years. It will be the largest event ever held at ExCeL London and through its unique skills competitions, WorldSkills London 2011 will offer a one-stop-shop for everything you need to know about future skills, careers and jobs.

Who is it for?

WorldSkills London 2011 is open to everyone but it is particularly relevant to 14-19 year olds. Choosing a career is never straight forward, but making decisions is easier when family, carers, friends and teachers get involved.

Your passport to a great future

WorldSkills London 2011 is split into seven skill sectors and 46 skills, so your child is bound to find something of interest to them, from hairdressing and hospitality to aircraft maintenance and stonemasonry.

You'll also be able to:

- Find out about a huge range of jobs, career and training opportunities
- Talk to real people about real jobs and experts will provide free careers advice
- Meet 100s of top employers including 3M, Acer, BBC, BT, Cisco, City & Guilds, Debenhams, dermologica, Honda, HSBC, Lincoln Electric, L'Oréal Professionnel, Mori Seiki, Ryman, Samsung, Snap-On Industrial, The Royal Navy, Travis Perkins and many more
- Get stuck in and Have a Go at 46 different skills from virtual welding and beauty facials to the pit-stop challenge.

- Be inspired and watch 1,000 young Competitors from around the globe compete to be world champions in one of 46 skills. Come and cheer on Team UK!
- See schools and colleges from across the UK Showcase what they do best
